Subject: Product quality complaint - Amoxicillin 500 mg capsules, lot AMX26-0417
Date: 3 March 2026

Hello,

I am the pharmacy manager at Harbourview Pharmacy in Halifax, Nova Scotia, Canada.

While filling a prescription this morning my technician noticed that several capsules in a bottle of Amoxicillin 500 mg capsules (lot AMX26-0417, expiry 11/2027) were discoloured. Approximately 12 of the 100 capsules had dark brown spotting on the body of the capsule and two capsules appeared partially crushed inside their intact blister pockets. The bottle was received from our wholesaler on 24 February 2026 and had been stored at room temperature in the original packaging.

The affected bottle was quarantined before any capsules were dispensed. No patient received capsules from this lot and no adverse reaction has been reported to us. We have placed the remaining stock of this lot on hold.

Please advise whether you would like the bottle returned for investigation and whether a credit note will be issued.

Kind regards,
Daniel Moreau, BScPhm
